

PROJECTS DON'T SUCCEED
BY STARTING WITH POOR QUALITY
CASTINGS

Through sustained investment in our people, our facilities and our markets, Goodwin Steel Castings is a world leader in large project engineering. We work hard to never lose focus of our client's requirements, offering exemplary customer service throughout your project.

Here at Goodwin Steel Castings we never stand still. We are always working to improve our processes and methodologies whilst maintaining our edge and great technical ability. This enables us to do what we love (what we do) – delivering brilliant engineering.

Standing in your shoes, why would your company want to work with anyone but the best to deliver your project?

If you think that this sounds like an all too familiar salesman's pitch, then we invite you to come and see for yourselves – come and meet our people, come and see our world class facilities and make up your own mind.

Bernard Goodwin
Director & General Manager

